Learn2Balance VIP Connection

Empowerment, Balance, Connection

Be a part of the Learn2Balance Community of women helping women. Participate, share, discuss, listen, learn, inspire, be inspired...CONNECT

Why Connect?

If you're like many of the people I hear from on a daily basis one of the biggest challenges you face on your path through life is finding the time and inspiration to help you release the behaviors of an unwanted habits (trying to do it all, living in overwhelm, never taking time for yourself, overeating, drinking too much, losing your temper) is finding a strong support system. Someone who understands you, someone you trust who makes it easy for you to confide in. You need a place you can go to connect with other individuals who are positively focused on improving their lives, making the choice to empower themselves, leave unwanted behaviors behind and create the life they want to live. And if you didn't have to drive, or get dressed up to go there? Perfect!

This is exactly why I created the Learn2Balance VIP Connection. I left a twenty-eight year career in corporate America behind so I could share my story of recovery and creating balance in my life. I set a goal to help as many people as I can find the freedom, peace and balance that I found. To make my story, your story. I created this community to create a space where you can talk and connect with women all over the globe who are ready to take control, make big changes in their lives and live consciously every day. By joining the Learn2Balance VIP Connection you will be part of a wonderful community of support and information. - Lori Hanson

Join Us

With a solid support system you too can realize your goals and dreams in life. I'll be your coach and guide you every step of the way. C'mon and join us! Accept this invitation and join a growing community of people who will understand, inspire and empower you to live your best life.
